QWABI CONFERENCE CENTRE

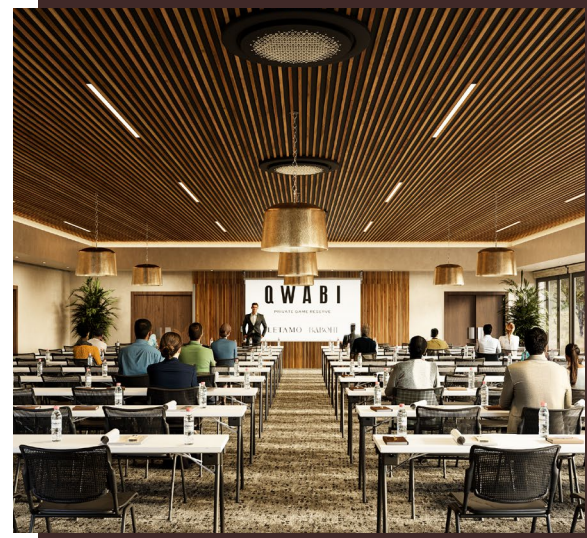

Set within the untamed beauty of the Waterberg, the new Qwabi Conference Centre has been thoughtfully designed to offer a sophisticated meeting and events destination that blends contemporary African design with functional business convenience. Inspired by the surrounding landscape and the refined aesthetic language of the greater Qwabi collection, the space combines natural textures, earthy tones, rich timber finishes and curated African-inspired décor to create an atmosphere that feels both elevated and deeply connected to place.

The interiors draw inspiration from modern safari elegance, with a palette of warm neutrals, charcoal tones, textured stone cladding, natural oak finishes and bespoke furnishings throughout the venue. Sculptural décor elements, statement lighting, timber panelling and handcrafted detailing create a sense of understated luxury, while expansive open spaces and soft layered finishes ensure a calm and productive environment for conferencing, celebrations and executive retreats.

At the heart of the facility is the main Conference Hall, a spacious 230m² venue accommodating up to 120 delegates in a cinema-style configuration. Designed with flexibility in mind, the venue can comfortably host conferences, corporate presentations, workshops, product launches, gala dinners, weddings and private events. The space features contemporary acoustic wood panelling, premium carpeting, high-volume ceilings and integrated presentation infrastructure, allowing for seamless transitions between business functions and elegant celebrations.

The Conference Hall is fully equipped with modern presentation technology, including large-format presentation screens and TV integration positioned by audiovisual specialists for optimal visibility throughout the venue. High-quality sound integration ensures clear audio delivery for presentations, keynote speakers and multimedia conferencing, while strategically designed lighting and acoustic finishes enhance both functionality and ambience. Dedicated coffee stations, serving areas and adjacent catering support spaces allow for effortless event flow and professional hospitality service throughout the day.

Complementing the main venue are two private breakaway rooms, each seating up to 15 delegates, ideal for smaller strategy sessions, executive meetings, workshops or team discussions. These intimate spaces continue the venue's sophisticated design narrative with textured carpets, warm paint finishes, layered fabrics and contemporary furnishings selected to encourage comfort, focus and collaboration.

QWABI CONFERENCE CENTRE

Arrival at the venue is designed to feel seamless and welcoming, beginning with a contemporary reception lobby featuring bespoke finishes, natural stone textures and curated décor details. Guests move through covered walkways and landscaped transitional spaces that connect the conferencing facilities to outdoor gathering areas, encouraging moments of pause between sessions while maintaining a strong connection to the surrounding bushveld environment.

The venue further extends onto a shaded dining deck accommodating approximately 102 guests, creating an ideal setting for conference lunches, networking functions, cocktail evenings, wedding celebrations and relaxed outdoor gatherings. Covered patios and outdoor entertainment areas provide additional breakout and social spaces, all designed with the same refined contemporary aesthetic and durable hospitality-grade furnishings.

Throughout the design, careful attention has been given to materiality and atmosphere. Rich walnut finishes, upholstered seating, natural stone accents, timber slatted feature walls and bespoke joinery work together to create a venue that feels modern yet timeless. The result is a conference and events destination that moves beyond the traditional corporate environment, offering guests an immersive experience that balances productivity, comfort and the authentic spirit of the African wilderness.

Whether hosting executive board meetings, incentive groups, leadership retreats, destination weddings or large-scale conferences, the QWABI Conference Centre delivers a distinctive bushveld experience where world-class facilities meet contemporary African luxury.
