QWABI CONFERENCE & EVENTS CENTRE

Set within the spectacular QWABI Private Game Reserve, QWABI Conference & Events Centre offers one of South Africa's most unique multi-purpose venues, combining world-class conferencing facilities with luxury safari experiences. Designed as an extension of the wider QWABI experience, the venue combines natural textures, warm timber finishes, layered stone elements and curated African-inspired décor to create a space that feels both sophisticated and deeply connected to its surroundings.

At the centre of the facility is the main Conference Hall - a flexible 230m² venue accommodating up to 120 delegates in a cinema-style configuration. Designed to host everything from conferences and executive retreats to product launches, gala dinners and weddings, the space balances functionality with a quieter sense of luxury through acoustic wood panelling, high-volume ceilings, premium finishes and integrated presentation technology. Large-format screens, seamless audiovisual integration and carefully considered lighting ensure the venue transitions effortlessly between business and social events.

Luxury Conference Venue • Weddings • Celebrations • Big 5 Safari Experiences

Two private breakaway rooms, each seating up to 15 delegates, offer more intimate spaces for strategy sessions, workshops and executive meetings. Throughout the venue, warm neutrals, textured finishes and contemporary furnishings create an environment designed to encourage both focus and comfort.

Arrival unfolds through a contemporary reception lobby and landscaped transitional spaces that maintain a constant connection to the surrounding wilderness. The venue further extends onto a shaded dining deck accommodating approximately 102 guests, alongside outdoor entertainment and breakout areas ideal for networking events, cocktail evenings and relaxed gatherings beneath the Waterberg sky.

More than a traditional conferencing venue, the QWABI Conference Centre has been designed as an immersive bushveld destination where business, celebration and contemporary African hospitality come together in a setting shaped by nature.

ABOUT THE WATERBERG BIOSPHERE RESERVE

QWABI is located within the Waterberg Biosphere Reserve, which forms part of the greater Waterberg Region in the province of Limpopo, South Africa. This reserve is one of only two UNESCO-declared savannah biospheres in Africa and is recognised as a critical biodiversity area by the South African National Biodiversity Institute. Known for its exquisite natural beauty and abundance of wildlife, including the Big Five, and birdlife, the Waterberg region gives guests a taste of authentic African wilderness.

The landscape has been relatively untouched by humans and few tarred roads exist in the area, giving those who visit an immersive bush experience. The region is also home to rivers, natural pans and streams, breathtaking mountain gorges and rock formations. It's an area rich in scenic splendour, in restorative ambiance and in cultural depth.
